For The Tribune. THE EXILE OF TYCHO. BY AUGUST'S SNODGRASS.

The Island of Huena was bestowed upon Tycho Brahe, by Frederick, King of Denmark, for the purpose of assisting him in his Attonomical Observations. On the death of Frederick his Pensions were stopped and he was driven from the Island by the Minister, Walchendorp.

The curse of this fair World! From out the blood Of Earth's first murdered, foul and red with crime, Thou didst arise; and like a Titan stood Arrard with the crashing thunders! Down the strent Of rolling years-borne on a gory flood Thou cam'st, and 'mid the bleeding World did gleam The lightning of thy blade! But not alone Thou lovest Death and Conflict, and the scream

Thou lay't an iron haad, to grasp the throne The spurning waves upon the Danish King In mockery of Man, from thy control Of the strong engle! Thou hast fought and bled, And on the Earth grouned struggling! Yet shall ring In dust and thy satellites he made

MPORTANT NEWS from Providence. —JAYNE'S EXPECTORANT TRIUMPHANT!—A Card—It give the public the following facts, that all interested may be benefited by the operation.

I am sixt-four years of age; have been for four years seriously afflicted with the asthma, have tried several physiclass, and taken many "certain" cures of great expense and without any essential advantage. For two years I was not able to pass the whole of a night in my bed. On consulting Dr. Wadsworth, of this city, about my case, he advised me to take Dr. Jayne's Expectorant. This medicine opera-ted as he told me it would do. I have taken ove bottles of it, and consider myself in a manner cured by it. I can now lay confortably all night; am free from the tightness of the ungs and weakness of the stomach, which so oreadfully distressed and reduced me. In short, life had become fairly burdensome to me—now I exjoy it, though I am not entirely free from other infirmities a tendent upon old age.

OMAN EYE BALSAM, for Weak and Lifamed Eyes.—This Balsam is a prescription of our of the most celebrated oculists, has been a long time in use, and is confidently recommended to the public as the best and most successial saive ever used for inflammatory diseases of the eye. In cases where the cyclists are very much inflamed, or the ball of the eye thickly covered with blood, it operates almost like magic, and removes all appearance of disease after two or three applications.

In Dimness of Sight caused by fixed attention to minute objects, or by long exposure to a strong light, and in the weakness or partial loss of sight from sickness or old age, it is a sure restorer, and should be used by all who find their eyesight failing without any apparent disease.

This Balsam has restored sight in many instances where almost TOTAL BLINDNESS, caused by excessive influmnation, and existed for years. Inflammation and soreness caused by blows, contusions, wounds on the eye, or by extraneous bodies of an irritating nature introduced under the eyelids, is very soon removed by the application of the Balsam. One trial will convince the most increditions of its efficacy.

n. One trial will convince the most incredulous of its

O TYRANNY! thou wert from eldest time

Of agonized Nature, and the groan Of the chained Captive, but upon the soul Of Heaven-born Reason! But as once did roll Leaps up the inborn spirit, as with wing

The clarion of thy conqueror, and thy bed Shall Freedem wave his heaven-descended blade! High on his tower the old man stood, and gazed Upon the plazing worlds of love and light;

And 'mid the realms of untracked ether raised, His soul, e'en as a bark, in calm delight, Borne by a fresh wind o'er the pathless sea, Roamed through the upper air! The silent night In that lone isle came as a witchery On that old man, who, though no human tongue Breathed in his ear, held raptured converse free

With the eternal, glorious, airy throng Of spirits winged from the abyss of Time; The future millions, who in rapture long Should hall that name, writ in the starry clime, Upon the biazing ords of Heaven! He gazed, And immortality on wings sublime Fiew like a scraph from the sky, and blazed E'en as a crown upon him! On his throne,

On high Uraniburg "-o'er kings upraised, He saw and ruled; yet, like a god, alone! He turned and gazed upon his chosen isle, Peopled for him with images of love, For others but a desert! With a smile Glowing through tears, his falling vision strove To catch familiar objects, but in vain! He turned:-the dancing billows gently move His old limbs from the shore; but in the main, Beneath him and around him, came the sky Lit with its thousand stars, and, as to gain

Once more his vision, danced beneath his eye Upon the curling waves! Here dost thou war On noble and the just, O Tyrauny! And, with a fiend directed soul, dost mar What Heaven approves! Thou, struggling in the breast Of a worm's worm! didst madly throw afar Thy thunderbolts, and vainly seek to wrest Fame from the brow of Love! But, as a snake,

Whose langs, within the trembling victim pressed, Cling to the wound, until they feebly break, He leapt his tiny length! And side by side The old man and his humbled Tyrant wake The cheers and scorn of men! The one allied Unto their souls, sleepeth in Honor's grave; The other, curst by scorning millions, died, To thee, O Tyranny, a fawning slave!
